Management Policies

1. Fundamental Management Policy

The core management philosophy of the SOFTBANK Group (hereafter "the Group") is "Endeavoring to benefit society and the economy by fostering the sharing of wisdom and knowledge gained through the IT revolution." By conducting business activities in a creative manner, the Group focuses its energy on both contributing to the development of society and increasing its corporate value. Based on its vision of using broadband to accelerate the IT revolution and make it a success, the Group in fiscal 2004 continued to place the highest priority on the broadband business domain.

Japan's broadband market continues to expand rapidly. Expansion is being driven by the Yahoo! BB comprehensive broadband service, which the Group started offering on a commercial basis in September 2001. As society as a whole quickly evolves into a digital information society and enters the ubiquitous information age, the Group will continue to contribute to the development of society by offering revolutionary services by drawing on its foresight and innovative ideas in the broadband domain. The Group's policy is to increase its corporate value by taking full advantage of opportunities to generate earnings, mainly in broadband businesses, as it adapts to changes in the business environment in a flexible and speedy manner.

2. Policy Regarding Allocation of Earnings

The fundamental policy of SOFTBANK CORP. (hereinafter called "the Company") is to increase the profits of shareholders by raising its corporate value while strengthening its operating base and profitability, returning earnings to shareholders and all other stakeholders in a suitable manner.

The Company's policy regarding dividends is to set dividend payments while taking into consideration the need to maintain the proper balance between measures to bolster the operating base and to preserve a stable dividend from a medium- and long-term perspective. Based on this policy, the Company has proposed a dividend of ¥7 per share, the same as in fiscal 2003.

3. Medium- and Long-Term Strategies

The SOFTBANK Group's strategies over the medium and long terms are as follows:

- (1) Generate and maximize stable earnings and cash flows by succeeding in the broadband infrastructure business.
- (2) Create a broad array of opportunities for generating and maximizing earnings and cash flows in Internet-based Group companies by leveraging synergies between these companies and the broadband infrastructure business.

(1) Succeed in the broadband infrastructure business

In March 2004, the cumulative number of lines installed in the Group's Yahoo! BB service surpassed 4 million. Firmly positioned as the leader in the ADSL service market among Japan's communications carriers and ISPs, this service continues to drive the expansion of this market. The Group's next target is to raise cumulative number of lines installed to more than 6 million by September 2005. The Group also continues to hold an overwhelming lead (based on Company data) in the IP telephony market, where the cumulative lines installed of its BB Phone IP telephone service reached 3.78 million at the end of March 2004.

During fiscal 2004, the Group launched the Yahoo! BB 26M and Yahoo! BB 45M services and started the full-scale deployment of wireless LAN Pack, increasing the number of users of services with a high degree of added value. The Group plans to further expand the customer base while preserving the proper balance with other management resources and raising average revenues per user. Through these actions, the Group intends to generate and maximize stable earnings and cash flows by succeeding in the broadband infrastructure business.

(2) Leverage synergies between Internet-based Group companies and the broadband infrastructure business. The Group has assembled the world's largest full-IP network with the provision of visual, voice and other services in mind. From this base, the Group is also developing businesses in broadband-related markets as well, drawing on know-how gained by Internet-based Group companies and on synergies with the broadband infrastructure business.

Yahoo Japan Corporation is benefiting from the widespread availability of high-speed, high-capacity, always-on Internet connections. Its advertising business is performing very well and its auction and shopping businesses are growing. BB Cable Corporation, which offers the BB Cable TV service over the Yahoo! BB ADSL network, is increasing the number of channels and enlarging its content lineup for video-on-demand. This company will continue using the Yahoo BB! service's infrastructure and customer base to deploy its business. SOFTBANK BB Corp. began offering a service for application streaming distribution. All group companies are working together to generate and maximize diversified earnings sources and cash flows by utilizing the broadband infrastructure business.

4. Important Management Issues

< Achieve Profitability in the Broadband Infrastructure Business and Increase Earnings Power>

In the broadband infrastructure business, substantial expenses are temporarily being incurred to acquire customers and for other purposes as this business is in its start-up and growth phases. The Group is working to continue to increase the number of lines installed and paying customers while maintaining the proper balance between growth in the customer base and the level of expenses. The Group is also working to expand services with a high degree of added value to increase average revenue per user and boost profit margins. Through these measures, the Group aims to achieve profitability at an early stage and increase earnings power in the broadband infrastructure business.

<Growth in Segments Outside the Broadband Infrastructure>

Now that high-speed, high-capacity, always-on Internet connections are readily available, the Group expects to see further growth in opportunities to generate profits at Group companies whose operations are rooted in the Internet. The operating income of segments outside the broadband infrastructure became profitable in fiscal 2003 and generated a large increase in fiscal 2004. The Group will maximize synergies between these companies and its broadband infrastructure business with the aim of generating more growth.

<Strengthen Management System for Information Security>

During fiscal 2004, an incident involving the unauthorized acquisition of Yahoo! BB customer information occurred at SOFTBANK BB Corp.

To prevent this problem from occurring again, SOFTBANK BB Corp. is focusing all its energy on building the most effective information security management system as quickly as possible. The goal is to position the Yahoo! BB brand as a symbol of "safety and reliability" over the medium and long terms. In addition to measures taken at SOFTBANK BB Corp., the entire Group has begun taking concrete actions to reinforce security regarding the management of information. The Group regards this incident as a valuable lesson. All executives and employees have been made well aware that the establishment of the best possible information security management system is one of the highest priorities of the Group. The Group is working as one to protect all of its information resources.

5. Fundamental Policy and Measures Regarding Corporate Governance

< Fundamental Policy for Corporate Governance>

The Company believes that corporate governance is essential to conducting management that places priority on shareholders and cash flows. As a pure holding company, the Company manages and coordinates the Group's diverse businesses, mainly through its board of directors and CEO Conference, while respecting the independence and specialized knowledge of each Group company, and is working to strengthen its Group management system.

< Enactment of Measures Regarding Corporate Governance>

- (1) Management organization and other corporate governance items related to management decision-making and the execution and supervision of business operations
- (a) Corporate governance units

The Company has a corporate auditor system. Three of the four corporate auditors are from outside the Group, ensuring objectivity, fairness and transparency. The auditors monitor the performance of directors in the execution of their duties with regard to all business activities. The Board of Directors has nine members, including three from outside the Group. The directors make decisions regarding important management issues and supervise the execution of business operations. In addition, a CEO Conference composed of the Company's representative director and the CEOs of each business segment and others is held each month. The Conference coordinates management policies for the entire Group, manages operating results of Group companies and performs other tasks.

A consulting attorney provides advice and guidance as necessary regarding daily business operations and management decisions. This attorney also attends all meetings of the Board of Directors and CEO Conference to provide advice and guidance. This adds transparency to Group management and reinforces compliance activities.

(b) Internal controls

The Group has an internal control framework for the purpose of raising the efficiency of business management and promoting compliance activities. Based on a plan, the Internal Audit Department conducts operational audits covering all management and business activities. These audits evaluate and verify compliance by the Company and the entire Group with management policies, laws, articles of incorporation, regulations, guidelines and other applicable rules. Furthermore, this department gives specific suggestions and directives in order to improve operations as well as to prevent problems from occurring in advance.

(2) Significant personal, financial, business or other relationships between the Group and external directors and external corporate auditors

There are no applicable items.

- (3) Measures taken during the past year to improve corporate governance
- (a) From the standpoint of stressing accountability to stakeholders, the Group began releasing quarterly results of operations beginning with the first quarter of fiscal 2004, thus better disclosing information in a timely and appropriate manner. In the first and third quarters, the Group released information on the same level as in its interim financial statements.
- (b) Concrete measures were enacted to strengthen the management system for information security. At SOFTBANK BB Corp., a chief information security officer (CISO) was appointed to clarify responsibility for information security and establish a framework for the effective execution of various measures. Additionally, the Privacy Management Advisory Board, which is made up of specialists from outside the Group who are well versed in crisis management and privacy issues, was established, giving the Group evaluations and advice on information management from an objective standpoint. This committee submitted its first report in March 2004. Moreover, a Technical Advisory Board has been established. Members, who are prominent experts in the fields of networks and Internet security, provide the Group with objective evaluations and advice concerning systems, networks, security and related matters. For the purpose of developing security policies and internal regulations, and strengthening the auditing system, an Information Security Committee has been established that consists of the individuals in charge of information security of each business segment.

To further reinforce information security management systems across the Group, the entire Group is taking concrete actions, including the appointment of a CISO in each company and development of a security policy applicable to the entire Group.

Results of Operations and Financial Position

1. Management's Analysis of Results of Operations and Financial Position

During fiscal 2004, the Group continued to concentrate on the broadband business. Actions continued to focus on acquiring more customers to expand the scale of operations with the goal of maximizing future earnings and cash flows. As a result, the Group reported an operating loss, ordinary loss and net loss for the year, primarily due to customer-acquisition costs and other up-front expenses. However, net sales were higher than in fiscal 2003 and there was a large decline in the operating loss. Management believes this shows that its broadband business model has been established. There was also a substantial year-on-year improvement in operating income at segments outside broadband infrastructure.

Regarding the financial position, the equity ratio declined compared with the end of fiscal 2003, but the Company conducted equity financing during fiscal 2004 to help offset the decline in shareholders' equity. In addition, funds were procured in various ways during fiscal 2004. As a result, cash and cash equivalents at the end of fiscal 2004 substantially increased compared with the end of fiscal 2003.

2. Consolidated Results of Operations

<Overview of Fiscal Year Results>

Net sales increased ¥110,501 million, or 27%, to ¥517,393 million. Net sales increased ¥88,899 million to ¥128,906 million in the Broadband Infrastructure segment due to growth in the number of paying customers in Yahoo! BB service and other factors. In addition, net sales increased in the Internet Culture and e-Finance segments.

The operating loss decreased ¥37,103 million to ¥54,893 million. Operating income increased ¥15,700 million to ¥32,582 million in the Internet Culture segment and the e-Finance segment reported operating income of ¥5,911 million compared with the prior year's loss of ¥5,823 million. In addition, the operating loss in the Broadband Infrastructure segment decreased due to the increase in net sales and other factors. Aggregate operating income for the segments outside the broadband infrastructure continued to increase, rising to ¥32,703 million.

The ordinary loss decreased ¥37,907 million to ¥71,901 million. There was a net non-operating loss of ¥17,007 million, ¥803 million less than in fiscal 2003. The previous year's exchange loss of ¥7,704 million became a gain of ¥6,508 million due to the yen's appreciation. However, an increase in interest-bearing debts caused net interest expense to increase ¥3,603 million to ¥11,252 million. Furthermore, net equity in loss under the equity-method was ¥2,276 million in fiscal 2004 due to the decrease in equity in gain under the equity-method from Aozora Bank, Ltd. and other factors, while net equity in gain under the equity-method of ¥11,107 million was recorded in fiscal 2003. In addition, there was a valuation loss on inventories of ¥10,052 million associated with modems and other equipment purchased at the initial stage of the Broadband Infrastructure business.

The net loss increased ¥7,104 million to ¥107,094 million. Special income was ¥42,786 million and special loss was ¥47,629 million, resulting in a net special loss of ¥4,843 million. As a result, the loss before income taxes and minority interest increased ¥5,269 million to ¥76,744 million. The major component of special income was a gain on sale of investment securities of ¥37,601 million, mainly the partial sale of shares held in SOFTBANK INVESTMENT CORPORATION, UTStarcom, Inc. and cyber communications inc. The special loss included a loss on sale of investment securities of ¥10,585 million, mainly the sale of shares held in Aozora Bank, Ltd., and a valuation loss on investment in affiliates of ¥9,188 million, mainly resulting from a one-time amortization of goodwill for SOFTBANK Korea Co., Ltd., due to a revaluation of its portfolio companies.

<Overview of Fourth Quarter Results (three-month period)>

In the fourth quarter of fiscal 2004 (January 1, 2004 to March 31, 2004), net sales was ¥155,239 million, the operating loss was ¥8,884 million, the ordinary loss was ¥9,626 million and the net loss was ¥13,410 million.

Net sales in the Broadband Infrastructure segment increased every quarter in fiscal 2004, rising to ¥40,935 million in the fourth quarter and net sales in the e-Commerce segment increased ¥11,222 million compared with the third quarter.

The operating loss increased ¥2,231 million compared with the third quarter. This was mainly attributable to an increase in customer-acquisition costs in the Broadband Infrastructure segment and a decrease in operating income in the e-Finance segment because there was no sale of operational investment securities during the fourth quarter.

In non-operating income/expenses items, there were a net exchange gain of ¥1,433 million as the yen appreciated and a net interest expense of ¥3,439 million as the issuance of bonds and other procurements caused interest-bearing debts to increase.

Special income included a ¥17,060 million gain on sale of investment securities, including the partial sale of shares held in SOFTBANK INVESTMENT CORPORATION. An extraordinary cost for information security measures of ¥3,176 million was recorded as a special loss. This mainly represents expenses for cash voucher in conjunction with the unauthorized acquisition of customer information in the Yahoo! BB service.

<Fiscal Year Results by Business Segment>

Broadband Infrastructure—Segment sales increased ¥88,899 million, or 222%, to ¥128,906 million. Expansion in the scale of the Yahoo! BB service contributed to sales growth at SOFTBANK BB Corp. and ISP revenue increase at Yahoo Japan Corporation. As a result, this segment has developed into a business generating annual sales of more than ¥100 billion. Mainly due to customer acquisition costs, the operating loss was ¥87,597 million, but this was ¥8,607 million less than in fiscal 2003 due to growth in the number of paying customers and other factors.

e-Commerce—Segment sales decreased ¥11,197 million, or 4%, to ¥254,888 million. This was attributable to the decrease of sales of software to consumers due to a drop in average unit prices and other factors, whereas the solutions business, mainly involving security, and hardware posted strong sales at SOFTBANK BB Corp. Operating income increased ¥1,180 million, or 48%, to ¥3,647 million. This was the result of reducing selling, general and administrative expenses by rationalizing personnel, logistics and other expenses and also growth in the solutions business, which has a high profit margin, at SOFTBANK BB Corp., especially in the second half.

Among other companies in this segment, operating results were generally better compared with fiscal 2003. In particular, Carview Corporation and e-Career CORP. (now SOFTBANK Human Capital Corp.) and other companies continued to post growth in net sales and operating income.

e-Finance—Segment revenue increased ¥13,260 million, or 47%, to ¥41,427 million. A major source of growth was the sales growth following the acquisition of a controlling stake in WORLD NICHIEI Securities Co., Ltd.* by SOFTBANK INVESTMENT CORPORATION in October 2003. Other factors were an increase in brokerage commission revenue and financial income from interest and dividends at E*TRADE SECURITIES CO., LTD. due to the higher trading volume in Japan's active stock markets. The segment recorded operating income of ¥5,911 million compared with the loss of ¥5,823 million in fiscal 2003. In addition to increased operating income at E*TRADE SECURITIES CO., LTD. and the contribution of WORLD NICHIEI FRONTIER Securities Co., Ltd., the operating income benefited from a decrease in the valuation loss on operational investment securities and a gain on sale of operational investment securities of SOFTBANK INVESTMENT CORPORATION.

This segment recorded a ¥9,890 million gain on sale of investment securities as special income in the fourth quarter, resulting from the partial sale of shares held in SOFTBANK INVESTMENT CORPORATION.

*WORLD NICHIEI Securities Co., Ltd. and SOFTBANK FRONTIER SECURITIES CO., LTD. merged in February 2004 to form WORLD NICHIEI FRONTIER Securities Co., Ltd.

Media & Marketing—Segment sales decreased ¥2,505 million, or 15%, to ¥14,407 million and the operating loss increased ¥569 million to ¥1,092 million. This performance mainly reflects lower sales of magazines and books at SOFTBANK Publishing Inc. amid a prolonged slump in the publishing market.

Broadmedia—Segment sales increased ¥948 million, or 8%, to ¥12,892 million and the operating loss increased ¥1,689 million to ¥3,305 million. This was mainly attributable to depreciation expenses, leasing fees, development-related expenses, content expenses and others at BB Cable Corporation, which operates the BB Cable TV service via the ADSL network.

Internet Culture—Segment sales increased ¥25,854 million, or 68%, to ¥64,054 million and operating income was up ¥15,700 million, or 93%, to ¥32,582 million. Amid signs of recovery in the overall Japanese advertising market, Yahoo Japan Corporation aggressively sold major advertising products to National Clients*, such as "brand panels" for top pages and others, capturing more advertising business from these clients. Sponsor site related sales were also favorable, helping to raise advertising sales to a new record high.

In the auction business at Yahoo Japan Corporation, a new system was introduced to boost its server capacity and other infrastructure components were added, enabling this business to handle more than 10 million items. Moreover, monthly system-use fees for stores were lowered in order to increase auction stores and a package discount was introduced for stores that also open stores on Yahoo! Shopping. As a result, auction sales increased substantially.

*Advertisers with significant exposure through other mass media channels.

Technology Services—Segment sales decreased ¥3,125 million, or 12%, to ¥22,603 million. There was an increase in sales relating to the backoffice service of SOFTBANK TECHNOLOGY CORP., which handles everything from sales to billing and bill collection on e-commerce sites. However, net sales in the ADSL sales support service declined. Operating income decreased ¥377 million, or 34%, to ¥736 million. This was mainly the result of a decline in the gross margin in the broadband solution business and increase of personnel expenses associated with new businesses at SOFTBANK TECHNOLOGY CORP.

Overseas Funds—Segment revenue decreased ¥834 million, or 25%, to ¥2,443 million. Operating income was down ¥615 million, or 31%, to ¥1,375 million. This was mainly due to lower fund management fees at SOFTBANK Holdings Inc.

Others—Segment sales decreased ¥9,990 million, or 63%, to ¥5,871 million, mainly a reflection of lower sales at SOFTBANK Commerce Korea Corporation. The operating loss decreased ¥2,417 million to ¥3,965 million.

3. Financial Position

<Balance Sheet Analysis (comparison of the end of fiscal 2004 with fiscal 2003)>

Current assets increased ¥480,503 million to ¥887,940 million. There was a ¥179,520 million increase in cash and deposits mainly due to the issuance of convertible bonds (¥150,000 million), common stock (¥48,680 million) and straight bonds (400 million euros, equivalent to ¥55,316 million). In addition, marketable securities increased ¥108,599 million due to a loan through a U.S. subsidiary that temporarily invested the funds in short-term investment trust. There was an increase of ¥193,154 million in cash segregated as deposits related to securities business and receivables related to margin transactions due to an increase in margin accounts and trading volume at E*TRADE SECURITIES CO., LTD. and the inclusion of WORLD NICHIEI Securities Co., Ltd. in the scope of consolidation.

Property and equipment increased ¥12,930 million to ¥115,179 million. Transmission equipment increased ¥12,947 million, mainly at SOFTBANK BB Corp. due to growth in the number of lines installed for its Yahoo! BB service.

Investments and other assets decreased ¥13,345 million to ¥399,001 million. There was a ¥10,951 million decline in investments in partnerships and increases in the market values of shares held in Yahoo! Inc. and UTStarcom, Inc. However, the sale of shares held in Aozora Bank, Ltd. caused investment securities to decline ¥4,508 million.

Total liabilities increased ¥447,408 million to ¥1,090,337 million. There was a ¥61,715 million decrease in short-term borrowings but a ¥165,470 million increase in payables related to margin transactions and guarantee deposits received from customers related to securities business mainly at E*TRADE SECURITIES CO., LTD. and WORLD NICHIEI FRONTIER Securities Co., Ltd. Regarding long-term liabilities, corporate bonds (long-term liabilities) increased ¥175,258 million due to the issuance of convertible bonds and straight bonds, and long-term debt increased ¥134,327 million due to loans through a U.S. subsidiary and other loans.

Shareholders' equity decreased ¥19,316 million to ¥238,080 million. Accumulated deficits increased ¥109,594 million due to the net loss, while net unrealized gain on other securities in relation to stock in Yahoo! Inc., UTStarcom, Inc. and certain other companies increased ¥65,602 million. In addition, the issuance of common stock raised common stock by ¥24,436 million and additional paid-in capital by ¥24,458 million.

<Cash Flows Analysis>

Cash flows were positive in fiscal 2004 as cash was provided by investing and financing activities while cash was used in operating activities.

Net cash used in operating activities increased ¥15,228 million to ¥83,829 million. Loss before income taxes and minority interest was ¥76,744 million, mostly the result of the operating loss in the Broadband Infrastructure segment, interest paid was ¥11,206 million and income taxes paid were ¥16,174 million. Depreciation and amortization increased ¥11,960 million to ¥32,864 million.

Net cash provided by investing activities decreased ¥37,871 million to ¥81,878 million. ¥61,472 million was used for purchase of property and equipment and intangibles, mainly transmission equipment at SOFTBANK BB Corp., and ¥38,945 million for purchase of marketable and investment securities. However, there were proceeds of ¥151,136 million from sale of marketable and investment securities, including shares held in Aozora Bank, Ltd. and UTStarcom, Inc. There were also proceeds of ¥29,212 million from the partial sale of shares held in certain consolidated subsidiaries, including E*TRADE SECURITIES CO., LTD. and SOFTBANK INVESTMENT CORPORATION.

Net cash provided by financing activities increased ¥324,006 million to ¥306,390 million. Despite the use of ¥76,851 million for repayment of short-term borrowings, net, ¥56,870 million for redemption of bonds and ¥50,993 million for repayment of long-term debt, there were proceeds of ¥216,636 million from the issuance of convertible bonds and straight bonds, ¥48,631 million from the issuance of shares and ¥204,828 million from long-term debt, mainly through a U.S. subsidiary.

As a result of foregoing, cash and cash equivalents at the end of fiscal 2004 totaled \(\frac{\pma}{4}\)37,132 million, an increase of \(\frac{\pma}{2}\)89,606 million from the end of fiscal 2003.

< Factors That May Have a Material Impact on Cash Flows in the Following Fiscal Year>

· Growth in Installed Lines at Yahoo! BB

In the broadband infrastructure business, where the Company is concentrating its management resources, growth in the number of lines installed at Yahoo! BB will result in start-up expenses associated with acquiring new customers. Therefore, this growth will temporarily have a negative influence on operating cash flows.

Redemption of Bonds

As of the end of March 2004, the Group had \(\frac{4}{3}33,221\) million of bonds outstanding. Bond redemptions totaling \(\frac{4}{3}36,154\) million are scheduled for fiscal 2005. The Company issued \(\frac{4}{1}50,000\) million of convertible bonds in December 2003 and 400 million euros (equivalent to \(\frac{4}{5}5,316\) million) of straight bonds in March 2004 in the Euromarket. The Company has secured adequate sources for the redemption of bonds during fiscal 2005.

• Commitment-line Contract

Upon the end of the term of a commitment-line established in fiscal 2003, the Company entered into a ¥100,000 million commitment-line contract with eight financial institutions, which was arranged by Mizuho Corporate Bank, Ltd. The Company has not decided whether to continue the contract into fiscal 2005. There were no borrowings through the commitment-line as of the end of March 2004.

[Trends in Cash Flow Indicators]

A summary of trends in cash flow indicators is presented below.

| Interest coverage ratio    | -               | -     | -     |  |  |  |  |

Notes:

1. The above indicators are calculated using the following formulas based on consolidated figures.

Equity ratio Shareholders' equity divided by total assets
Equity ratio (Market cap.) Market capitalization divided by total assets

Debt repayment period Interest-bearing debt divided by net operating cash in-flows

Interest coverage ratio Net operating cash in-flows divided by interest expenses

- 2. Market capitalization is calculated by multiplying the closing stock price by the number of shares outstanding, net of treasury stock, as at March 31, 2004.
- 3. Interest-bearing debt is the sum of all consolidated liabilities on which interest must be paid.
- 4. Net operating cash in-flows and interest expenses are the corresponding figures shown on the consolidated statements of cash flows.
- 5. Negative figures are indicated by a " " sign.

4. Risks relating to our businesses and others

The following is a list of some significant items that may have an effect on the operating results, financial position and other aspects of the SOFTBANK Group's operations.

- (i) The Group is active in a broad range of markets including broadband-related markets, IT-related distribution markets, securities transaction markets and other markets. Demand for services and products supplied by the Group are dependent on economic conditions, trends in these markets and other factors.
- (ii) In the IT industry, where the Group conducts its business activities, technological innovation is rapid and competition among participants is increasing. The provision of services by the Group and trends in demand for services supplied by the Group are subject to trends in IT industry technological innovation and competition among participants.
- (iii) The Group's business activities are governed by a variety of laws and regulations including but not limited to the Telecommunications Business Law and the Securities and Exchange Law. Revisions to these laws and regulations, and the establishment of new laws and regulations in the future, may prevent the Group from conducting its business activities as expected.
- (iv) Valuations of investment securities held by the Group are affected by economic and stock market conditions in Japan and overseas, and trends in foreign exchange markets. Furthermore, loans between the Company and its overseas subsidiaries, the import of communications equipment and other activities are vulnerable to trends in foreign exchange markets.
- (v) The Group may not be able to operate new businesses as expected. For example, the Group has acquired a preliminary license to conduct tests regarding the TD-CDMA and CDMA2000, which are third-generation mobile phone standards. Although tests are now under way, the Group's entry into a third-generation mobile phone business will depend on the ability to obtain a commercial license, the trends in demand for this service and other factors.
- (vi) The Group uses dark-fiber owned by NTT to conduct its broadband infrastructure business. The Group has installed its communications equipment at NTT's central offices and pays NTT a connection fee. Furthermore, the Yahoo! BB comprehensive broadband service, which is a core service of the broadband infrastructure business, depends on the Yahoo! brand of Yahoo! Inc. If there is any change in the relationship between the Group and these companies, the Group may no longer be able to conduct its business activities as expected.

Please note that this is not a complete list of factors that could affect operating results.

3. Summary of significant accounting policies

- [1] Evaluation standards and methods for major assets
  - (1) Marketable securities and investment securities

Held-to-maturity debt securities: Stated at amortized cost

Other securities:

With market quotations:

Stated at fair value, which represents the market prices at the balance sheet date (Unrealized gain/loss are included as a separate component in shareholders' equity, net of tax, while cost is primarily determined using the moving-average method)

Without market quotations: Carried at cost, primarily based on the moving-average method

(2) Derivative instruments: Stated at fair value

(3) Inventories: Carried at cost, primarily based on the moving-average method

[2] Depreciation and amortization

(1) Property and equipment:

Transmission equipment: Computed using the straight-line method

Others: Computed primarily using the declining-balance method

(2) Intangible assets: Computed using the straight-line method

[3] Accounting principles for major allowances and accruals

Allowance for doubtful accounts:

Allowance for doubtful accounts is calculated based on the aggregate amount of estimated credit losses on doubtful receivables, plus an amount for receivables other than doubtful receivables calculated using historical write-off experience ratios from certain prior periods.

[4] Translation of foreign currency transactions and accounts

All assets and liabilities in foreign currencies are translated at the foreign exchange rates prevailing at the respective balance sheet dates. Exchange gains or losses are charged to the net income when incurred.

The translation of revenues and expenses in the financial statements of foreign consolidated subsidiaries into Japanese yen is performed by using the average exchange rate for the period. Assets and liabilities are translated using the foreign exchange rates prevailing at the balance sheet dates, and capital stock is translated using the historical rates. Foreign currency financial statement translation differences are presented as a separate component of "Shareholders' equity", except for the portion pertaining to minority shareholders, which is included in "Minority interest in consolidated subsidiaries".

[5] Capital lease

Under the Japanese accounting standards, capital leases, as defined therein, other than those whereby the ownership of the assets is transferred to the lessee at the end of the lease term, are permitted to be accounted for as operating leases with a footnote disclosure of the estimated acquisition cost, estimated accumulated depreciation and future lease payments or receipts.

[6] Accounting for significant hedge transactions

(1) Hedge accounting

Unrealized gains and losses, net of tax, on derivative instruments that are qualified as an effective cash flow hedge at a consolidated subsidiary in the United States of America are reported as a separate component of "Shareholders' equity" in the Company's consolidated balance sheets. As such, unrealized gains and losses associated with the derivative instruments will be recognized into earnings in the same period during which the hedged assets and liabilities are recognized in earnings.

(2) Derivative instruments for hedging and hedged items

Derivative instruments for hedging: Prepaid variable share forward contract (the collar transaction)

Hedged asset: Equity security

(3) Hedging policy

The purpose of the collar transaction is to hedge the variability of cash flows associated with the future market price of the underlying equity security.

[7] Accounting method for consumption taxes

Consumption taxes are accounted for using net-of-tax method.

4. Accounting for business combinations

All assets and liabilities of an acquired entity are revalued at the respective fair market value at the combination date.

5. Amortization of consolidation adjustment

"Consolidation adjustment" is amortized on a straight-line basis over reasonably estimated periods, in which economic benefits are expected to be realized. An immaterial consolidation adjustment is expensed as incurred.

6. Appropriation of retained earnings

The consolidated statement of retained earnings reflects the appropriation of retained earnings approved during the fiscal year.

7. Scope of cash and cash equivalents in the consolidated statements of cash flows

"Cash and cash equivalents" comprises cash on hand, bank deposits withdrawable on demand and highly liquid investments with initial maturities of three months or less and a low risk of fluctuation in value.

6. Reserve required under special laws

Reserve for securities trading liabilities Reserve for commodity trading liabilities Securities Exchange Law, No. 51 Commodity Exchange Act, No. 136-22

7. Net unrealized gains/losses on derivative instruments

Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 133, "Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities" ("SFAS 133") is adopted on derivative instruments which the Company's consolidated subsidiary in the United States of America utilized.

The consolidated subsidiary in the United States of America has entered into a variable share prepaid forward contract (the "collar transaction") utilizing its shares of an equity security. The purpose of this collar transaction is to hedge the variability of cash flows associated with the future market price of the underlying security, which is used for the settlement of the loans. According to SFAS 133, unrealized gains and losses, net of tax, on the effective portion of the cash flow hedge as defined are reported as a separate component of "Shareholders' equity", until gains and losses on the hedged item are recognized in earnings.

Notes: 1. Business segments are categorized primarily based on the nature of business operations, type of services, and similarity of sales channels, etc., which the SOFTBANK Group uses for its internal management purpose.

- 2. Please refer to the chart of "The SOFTBANK Group" for main businesses by segments.
- 3. The amounts of corporate assets included in the column "Elimination or corporate" were ¥111,078 million and ¥223,970 million at the fiscal year ended 2003 and 2004, respectively, which were mainly surplus operating funds (cash and marketable securities), long-term investment securities of the Company and assets held by the corporate division of the Company.
- 4."Capital expenditures" include acquisition of long-term prepaid expenses and deferred assets. "Depreciation and amortization" includes amortization of the long-term prepaid expenses and deferred charges.

Notes:

1. Net sales by geographic region were recognized based on geographic location.

North America: U.S.A. and Canada

Others: Europe, Korea, China, Hong Kong and Singapore

- 2. The amounts of corporate assets included in the column "Elimination or corporate" were ¥111,078 million and ¥223,970 million at the fiscal year ended 2003 and 2004, respectively, which were mainly surplus operating funds (cash and marketable securities) and long-term investment securities of the Company, and assets held by the corporate division of the Company.
- 3. Due to the decrease in materiality of the results of "Europe" and "Korea", the SOFTBANK Group combined the results of "Europe" and "Korea" into "Others" effective from April 1,2003.

3. Overseas Sales

Overseas sales for the year ended March 31, 2004 were omitted because the total overseas sales were less than 10% of total consolidated sales.

(4) Calculation method of amount equivalent to depreciation and interest expense

Amount equivalent to interest expense

The amount equivalent to depreciation is computed using the straight-line method over the period of the capital leases, assuming no residual value except in cases where the residual value is guaranteed in the lease contract.

The amount equivalent to interest expense, which is calculated by subtracting acquisition costs from total lease payments, is allocated over the lease periods based on the interest method.
